

Activity: Employee Scenario

CAN YOU RELATE?

It is crucial to respect the information that you share, as it can affect people in many ways.

I'm Kris. I had to take time off work for a medical emergency due to COVID-19. I was off from work for two weeks, so had to provide hospital and doctor's notes.

Kris

I'm Kris's line manager, Paul. I helped Kris back into work and passed on the medical information that she gave me.

Paul (line manager)

I'm Rick, the HR officer. I dealt with the information that Kris's line manager gave me. I asked Keisha to help me with the filing; she's new to the department and getting used to things.

Rick (HR officer)

I'm Keisha. I helped with the filing. I also mentioned Kris's condition to my boyfriend Shawn because he had the same symptoms last week.

Keisha (helper)

I'm Shawn. My friend Keith happens to work with Kris' team. We talked about Kris's condition and I passed on my sympathies through him. I know how difficult the condition is to deal with.

Shawn (friend of Keisha)

I'm so embarrassed that everyone knows about my condition. I never wanted it out in the open and feel like everyone is talking about me.
